

It started like it does for many people. I questioned my faith, I questioned authority. I feel the reason why I left was the draw of the world. The world was pulling me away. Some people would say Satan was working on me. He did not want me in Church. He wanted me to be desperate. He wanted me to have thoughts of suicide. I started to realize that a lot of the things I had experienced in my life were a result of my rebellion against God and against authority. Coming back to the Church is the first step in healing from all the hurts of the world. I went from being desperate and in despair to finding hope and encouragement for the future. I'm on God's team. I know whom I belong to and I know where I'm going and there is nothing that can separate me from God's love.

Narrator: Take another look at the Catholic Church visit www.catholicscomehome.org today.